Spiritual Practices

Ignatian Spirituality

During Lent, those who are praying through the Spiritual Exercises want to walk with Jesus as he carries his cross. Jesus shows us his wounds and invites us to touch them, to cry for them, to let his suffering break our hearts. As our hearts open more fully to suffering we begin to see the wounds of Christ revealed in poverty, exploitation, or oppression. We are invited to walk with Jesus into hard painful places that we see around us. Are you willing?

The next meeting of the Spiritual Exercises in Everyday Life (SEEL) will be April 13 at 9 a.m. at the Parish of the Holy Spirit and on Zoom online. The theme will be the Resurrection and Learning to Love Like God. To learn more about SEEL, please visit <https://seeltc.com>.

Benedictine Spirituality

Our small group meets on the third Thursday of the month, this time March 21, at noon in the parish library. We begin and conclude with prayer, and in between read a portion of the Rule of St. Benedict and comment. Our meeting lasts about an hour. Join us!

For more information about Benedictine spirituality, contact Betsy at 430-1962.

Carmelite Corner

Ten Day Spiritual Retreat by Titus Brandsma; taken from Essays on Titus Brandsma; Carmelite Media 2004 pages 247-261

Meditations {Day VII of Retreat, 1 of 4}

Resolution 1: Do not run away from sufferings; put up with scorn. These unite us to Jesus and make us understand the meaning of sorrow. With Mary, go to encounter Jesus on the Way of the Cross. In suffering, be united to Mary; model our life on hers, in order to share in her generosity. Take advantage of the opportunities we find to meditate on the Passion of the Lord. In order to make the Way of the Cross, pay special attention to the crucifix in our rooms and where we work.

Meditation 2: Episode-The Bl. Virgin under the cross;

For the space of three hours, beneath the cross on which Jesus is agonizing in indescribable pain: Go and see Jesus with Mary. "Learn from me, for I am meek and humble of heart." (Mt. 11:29)

Teachings contained in this episode:

1- The death of Jesus: final, supreme manifestation of his love. Often take our place with Mary and John beneath the cross to meditate on the sacred passion. Jesus tells us: "When I shall be raised up from the earth, I shall draw all towards me" (Jn 12:32).

2- Unite ourselves to Jesus in his death. Unite our death to his, unite our sacrifice to his. "Into your hands I commend my spirit" (Lk 23:46).

Sunday Reflection

Lost in the Crowd

I write my phone number on my kids' arms when we go into large crowds at summer festivals, in case we get separated. If you think this makes me sound like a neurotic person with an overactive imagination who watches too many true crime documentaries, you would be correct. I am all of those things.

However, I am also practical, and I've endured moments of panic after looking up and briefly not being able to locate a child who has wandered off or lagged behind. The phone number, scrawled across their sunscreen-streaked skin, is a safeguard, however insignificant. It's something they can hold up to show an adult, something they can point to and say, "This is where I need to be. Help me get here."

When I reflect on my own life, it occurs to me that I was born lost. We all were. It was only in Eden that a human being ever knew what it was to be at home. In Eden, I would imagine, the feeling of safety was so natural that it was only noticed after it was gone. But original sin came like a noisy crowd to bear us away from the place we needed to be, and since that time, our human lives have played out against a backdrop of insecurity and unfamiliarity. We are cold and alone and confused. And God, our heartbroken parent, never stops seeking us, never stops calling our names.

Baptism, the etching of God's law onto our heart and soul, is not a phone number written on our arms. It's something far better — it's a homing signal, planted deep within. And it will lead us back to where we need to be.

"But this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, says the LORD. I will place my law within them and write it upon their hearts; I will be their God, and they shall be my people." — Jeremiah 31:33
