Sunday Reflection

Take More

It doesn't matter what time of day we visit my mother-in-law — she always has food to offer. If we take two helpings, she will encourage us to take three. If we take three helpings, she will say, "Coraggio — take more." (She's Italian, in case you couldn't tell from the food-pushing and the language.)

When Jesus feeds the five thousand with the miracle of the loaves and fish, he does not produce just enough food to feed everyone who is there. He certainly could; that would be within his power. And he shows concern about waste, so it would make sense for him to do that. But instead, he deliberately overproduces. He creates more food than is necessary. He makes an abundance of it. Why?

I think it's for the same reason my mother-in-law keeps urging us to eat when we come to her house. Feeding people is not just a functional action. It's a gesture. It shows love. It shows concern. It shows welcome. Having an abundance of food — so much that there is some left over — is a sign that you don't care how much someone wants — you are ready to give whatever they are ready to take. You are ready to give recklessly. You are ready to give them not just all they need but also all they could want.

I think of this when I approach the sacrament of Confession. Time and time again I walk up to the door of that little room, a list of oft-repeated sins in my hand and a sense of shame on my heart.

Here I am again, Jesus. Back for more mercy. Hope you haven't run out.

He hasn't yet. He never will. "Coraggio," he whispers deep in my heart, "take more."

"When the people saw the sign he had done, they said, 'This is truly the Prophet, the one who is to come into the world.'" — John 6:14

From our St. Vincent de Paul Society

In the Gospel, Jesus supersedes both the apostles' and the crowds' expectations: with only a little, he feeds many...Jesus is the sign of God's lavish presence and love. Your donation to the Society of St. Vincent de Paul is indeed a sign of God's extravagant love for the lonely and poor in our community.

On July 3rd, a mother caring for three children received a notice that her car would be towed from her apartment-assigned parking spot in two days due to expired tabs. The car was not drivable due to a bad battery. She could not afford to renew the plates, tow the car or replace the battery and called asking for help paying for a tow to a relative's home across town. She called our help line on the afternoon of Independence Day. With the fireworks already beginning to go off, two Vincentians used your donations to buy a new battery for her car to make it drivable and offered to help her renew the registration so she could use the car again.

Have you considered joining the Society of St. Vincent de Paul to bring God's love to the poor? Contact Bruce, the CK SVP Conference President, at (509) 627-7295 to learn more.

Richland Secure Self Storage has graciously donated a storage unit to CK St. Vincent de Paul for furniture items donated to families in need. Please consider contacting RSSS for your storage unit needs.

Spiritual Practices

Ignatian Spirituality.

The SEEL Deadline is just two weeks away. If you feel called to join this powerful and enriching prayer program, please get your application in as soon as possible. Spaces are limited and the demand is growing. As you might know from past bulletin notices, the Spiritual Exercises in Everyday Life (SEEL) is a nine-month prayer and spiritual direction program designed for lay persons. SEEL is flexible; each person carves out time for prayer and meets with an assigned spiritual director based on his or her own schedule. Participants learn by practice many types of prayer including consideration, imagination, scriptural contemplation and meditation. The Spiritual Exercises are powerful. This is a Catholic, Christian program, and people of all faiths are welcome.

If you feel called to join the Spiritual Exercises this year, please apply as soon as possible. For an application or information, please visit our website at <https://seeltc.com> or contact us at info@seeltc.com.

Benedictine Spirituality:

In the Rule of St. Benedict we find direction in matters of profound spiritual development... and direction in seemingly trivial activities in daily life. One of the latter is Chapter 39: The Proper Amount of Food. Along with two cooked dishes and fruit and fresh vegetables, 'a generous pound of bread is enough for the day.' Why proscribe this diet? As in Jesus' time, bread was a vital staple. St. Benedict wanted to sustain the monks for their work of prayer and their work of service.

For more information about Benedictine spirituality, contact Betsy at 509-430-1962.

Carmelite Corner

The heart of a Lay Carmelite vocation:

Excerpts from "Into the Land of Carmel", Joseph Chalmers, O. Carm. 2002 (3 of 4)

Contemplation is what binds the other elements of the charism together. Like all members of the Carmelite Family, lay Carmelites are called to grow in their relationship with Christ until they become his intimate friends and as such will be a powerful transformative influence on the world.

The traditional helps for the development of contemplation are often absent from our world, which is marked by frenetic activity.

Therefore lay Carmelites must seek out times when they can lay aside the cares of daily life for a while and allow God to speak to their hearts in silence. Strengthened by this food, they can continue their journey and look at the world with new eyes.

Contemplation can see the presence of God in unlikely situations; God always precedes us and is present in every situation before we arrive. It is our duty to discover the presence of God in the midst of what is around us and proclaim this presence to our world.

For information about the Lay Carmelites, contact Rebecca Moak at 509-460-1608.
