TALKING TO OUR KIDS ABOUT SEX AND RELATIONSHIPS

Most parents are embarrassed, uncomfortable and uneducated when it comes to talking to our kids about sex. Yet, current studies reveal that parents have the greatest influence on the decisions teens make about sex. Today's youth especially need to hear the message that reserving sexual activity until marriage is their best choice to protect their health, heart, and future. Today's presentation offers tips on helping our youth make healthy choices for brighter tomorrows. Our presenter is Gretchen Sewart. Gretchen graduated from CK in 1968. She and her husband Brad were foster parents of teenagers through Catholic Family Services and Gretchen was a chemical engineer at Battelle. They now have three teenagers of their own. Gretchen has volunteered extensively, including at Benton Franklin County Juvenile Detention and the local nursing homes. She worked for 15 years as an anti-pornography activist on the local, state and national levels. Currently Gretchen is Director of Community Relations for the Tri-Cities Pregnancy Network.

Wednesday, March 12th

HEALTHY FAMILY RELATIONSHIPS

Our speaker is Julie Elmenhurst, LICSW, individual, marriage, and family therapist. She will share some of her insights on how we can raise accountable kids and understand the behavior of those we love. Her shared experiences can help us better understand the long-term outcomes from rescuing our kids rather than holding them accountable for their actions.

Wednesday, April 16th ADORATION OF THE BLESSED SACRAMENT 101

Are you confused by all this talk of Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament? Come enjoy an informative talk with Fr. Wilmar. He will take us through what is involved and we will conclude in the chapel with 20 minutes of Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament.
